Bennett of the Anita saying that her ask and had died of heart failure and exressing sympathy. About I o'clock Sunav afternoon Frank Gibbons, a brothernelaw of Taillandier, got a telegram from Cast Bennett which said that Taillandier had committed suicida the Atlantic House at Marblehead, by snooting himself Bennett was received two hours later, saying that the body would be shipped from Boston at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

The assistants of a Boston undertaker brought the body to the Grand Central Station. A transit permit had previously been sent to A. Nirmaier, Taillandier's father-in-law. It contained no statement of the cause of death. Nirmaier took the permit to the Grand Central Station and handed it to Acting Sergeant Ryan, who alowed the undertaker to take the body to Faillandier's home at 74 Seventh street. A few minutes after the body was removed from the station a man who said he was ar undertaker from Boston asked Sergt. Ryan or the body and seemed to be much dis nted when told it had already bee aken away. Toe body had been embalmed All expenses of shipping the body here were prepaid. The body was in an oak coffin with silver handles. At the Tail-landier house the family found that all the clothing was new except the uniform coat. Even the gold stude in the shirt Taillandier did not have with him when

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Taillandier, ys. A. J. McIntosh, the yacht broker, who had hired Taillandier for the cruise of the Anita, called on her, expressed sym pathy and told her that if she lacked money she would be provided for. Mr. Leeds's secretary also called and repeated Mr. McIntosh's assurances. He said that as understood it Taillandier had shot him in the mouth self in the mouth.

By this time Taillandier's relatives did not know what to think. On Monday night one of them opened the uniform coat and saw a faint bloodstain on the white shirt over the right breast. Then he opened the shirt and saw that the underclothing was shirt and saw that the underciothing was more heavily stained with blood. Then he tried to find Police Captain Titus but couldn't. Yesterday morning Mrs. Taillan-dier saw Titus, told him the story and gave him the teiegrams which she had re-ceived. He communicated with the Boston order's office.

She went to Coroner Goldenkranz and he examined the body. He says that he found a bullet wound in the right breast vo or three inches below and to the right t as Taillandier was right handed it uld have been difficult for him to shoot uself thus. The President feels it altogether too soon to determine definitely the advisability of calling an extra session. It is true that the possibility of such action has been conidered, just as every other contingency of the Government has been considered. But no one has any authority to say that an extra session will be ordered, and it is not yet a probability that such a session will be ordered. It is not an impossibility that the Congress may be asked to assemble before the first day in November, but certainly such action has not become definitely the Administration's programme. TO LIST RUSSIAN RENTES HERE. Entire Issue of 2.310,000,000 Rubles -This a World's Market.

An application in the name of the Imperial Government of Russia has been made to the New York Stock Exchange through J. P. Morgan & Co. to have listed on the Exchange the entire issue of Russian Government rentes as a preparation for making a market here for Russian Government bonds. The application is o list "2,310,000,000 rubles State 4 per cent. ertificates of rente of the Imperial Russian Government." A ruble gold is equivalent o 51.5 cents.

In financial quarters vesterday the application was looked upon as a distinct indication of the tendency toward the estabishment of New York as an international financial centre of the first rank. It was construed as but a beginning in the listing upon the New York Stock Exchange of the Government securities of the leading countries of the world. The listing of British consols is expected ultimately. The National City Bank has air eady established a market here for British consols by issuing its own certificates against them, and arranging to buy or sell such certificates on the basis of the market quotations for consols abroad. A few foreign government securities are already listed on the New York Stock Exchange, but those listed have not represented issues of importance. They are as follows: United States of Mexico, sternal gol £22,407,000; Province of Quebec 5 per cent loan of 1908, $5,000,000; Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, bond loan 31/2, series 1, 1901, 15,000,000 marks.

ENGINEERS GET A 9-HOUR DAY.

SO THERE'LL BE NO STRIKE.

Mileage and Other Demands Waived by the Men in Consideration of Attaining Their Main Object Compromise Agreement Signed to Last Indefinitely.

There will be no strike on the Manhattan elevated railroad. The trouble between the company and its motormen-engineers and firemen was amicably settled vesterday afternoon after a two-hour conference between Vice-President Skitt and the Grievance Committee of the men. The conference was held in Mr. Skitt's office in the Western Union Building and was attended in an advisory capacity by Vice-Chief Youngson of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Vice-Grand Master Wilson of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. At its close this typewritten statement was given cut:

The firemen will ratify it at a meeting in the Horton Building in East 125th street to-morrow evening and the motormen-engineers at a meeting in the motormen-engineers at a meeting in the same place on Saturday evening.

At the conference Vice-Chief Youngson assured Mr. Skitt that he did not come here to promote a strike, but rather to prevent one if possible. He was represented as a labor agitator, which, he said, was not true. He did not believe in strikes if they could possibly be avoided and the strike talk did not come from him, but from people who allowed their imagination to people who allowed their imagination to outrun their discretion.

Before the meeting with Mr. Skitt there was a conference yesterday morning in the Broadway Central Hotel between the Grievance Committee and Vice-Chiefs Youngson and Wilson at which R. E. Quirk, chairman of the State Legislative Boards of Railroad Brotherhoods was proved. of Railroad Brotherhoods was present.

About the same time a conference was being held in Mr. Skitt's office in the Western Union Building, between Mr. Skitt and the Executive and Expense committees of the Manhattan Railway Company. The two Manhattan Railway Company. The two committees have the same personnel. Among those who attended were J. T. Terry, Secretary D. W. McWilliams, G. P. Morosini and of the agreement was arranged for.

Mr. Youngson said he was satisfied that Mr. Skitt had treated everybody countered.

Skitt had treated everybody courteously and that he (Youngson) had never talked strike. A member of the Grievance Committee said that practically all the demands had been granted except the ninety miles a day demand, which the granting of the nine-hour workday made unnecessary.
"What about the firemen?" he was asked.
"Oh, the firemen obtained all they asked for," was the reply.

Besides the nine-hour workday, which has been granted, the principal demands were as follows:

Any motorman ordered to report for duty shall receive half a day's pay if he is not held for more than four hours, in which case he shall receive full pay.

All motormen promoted from fremen shall receive $3 a day for the first six months, $3.25 for the second six months and after a appearance. When the car had reached Seventy-first street the woman leaned over and punched Gaffney in the eye. He retaliated with a blow which knocked the woman out of the car. There were about two dozen passen-gers. Most of the women screamed and the men set upon Gaffney.

The woman was picked up and carried to the sidewalk, where an ambulance was sent for. She was suffering only from nervous shock, however, and there was nothing for the surgeon to do. In the meanime things had fared badly with Gaffney until Policeman Bidinger appeared. He took Gaffney and the woman to the West Sixty wighth street station. Sixty-eighth street station. Gaffney's friend disappeared. At the station Sergt. Wolf locked Gaffney up on a charge of disorderly conduct. The woman said she was Mrs. Annie Bowen of 120 West 102d street. She was also locked up on the same charge. The sergeant thought she was in no condition to take care of herself.

SUICIDE AFTER A ROBBERY? Dead Man, Found on a Stoop, Had Stolen Keys and Checks.

Policeman Lazore found the body of an elderly, poorly dressed man lying on the stcop of a private house at 50 West Twentyninth street last evening. At the Tenderoin station a search of the clothing brought out a bunch of keys with the name Edward Maybew stamped on them, an envelope addressed to Edward Maybew. decerator, at 1267 Breadway, a bunch of checks on the Gansevcort Bank signed by Mayhew, a screwdriver and an uncorked half-ounce bottle marked "chloride."

A policeman was sent around to the Broadway address. There he learned that Maybew had been seen about the place only a few minutes before and that his office had been entered during the afternoon by sneak thieves who had carried off his keys and a lot of checks. To make sure, however, a friend of Mayhew's went to the station. He identified the keys, but had never seen the dead man before. The police came to the conclusion that the man, after making a futile attempt to get some money by robbing Mayhew's office, had ended his own life

$150,000,000 RAILROAD PROFITS. Company Will Make That This Year.

St. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 12.—The earnings of the Northern Securities Company, says James J. Hill, its president, will be $150,000. 000 for the year beginning July 1. In these earnings he calculates only upon the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific and Burlington. Mr. Hill's estimates of railroad earnings, crops, &c., have always been singularly accurate. If the gross earnings of the three lines are $150,000,000 it will mean an advance of about $24,000,000 over the year previous, Mr. Hill's estimate is divided thus: Burlington, $60,000,000; Northern Pacific, $50,000,-000; Great Northern, $40,000,000. Last year the earnings of the Great Northern were $36,000,000 and the Northern Pacific $41,-000.000

ELEVATED TRAFFIC DELAYED. Car on the Third Avenue Line Jumps the Track-Fall of a Heavy Tool.

Traffic on the Third avenue elevated was delayed for more than half an hour yesterday afternoon. A train of three cars left the South Ferry station shortly after 2 o'clock and had reached Moore street where the rear truck of the last car jumped the track. The motorman shut off the power and applied the air brakes, but the car bumped along for nearly fifty feet before the train came to a stop. The jar frightened the passengers and as many as could crowded out on the platforms. The guards refused to open the gates and after the train had come to a stop succeeded in convincing the passengers that there was no danger. A wrecking crew was summoned and the rear car, which had swung across the tracks, was lifted into position. While the wrecking crew was at work an iron jack screw weighing about seventy pounds fell from the tracks to the street below. It struck within a short distance of an Italian fruit pedler. The man de-serted his push cart and ran up Broad street. He did not return until the train was about ready to go ahead. WAS MARRIED TWICE TO W. H. VANDERBILT'S GRANDSON.

Dr. John Hall Performed the Religious Ceremony-The Bride Was the Daughter of a Greenport Greeer and Widow of a Sailer-She Seeks a Divorce.

Esther Shepard, who was married twice a 1897 to Eliot Fitch Shepard, a grandson of W. H. Vanderbilt, has sued him for divorce. The two marriages of young Shepard to Mrs. Esther Potter, formerly Esther Wiggins, daughter of a grocer of Greenport, L. I., caused something of a stir in 1897. The bride was considerably more mature than the bridegroom. A civil ceremony, it was said, was first gone through, and then at the suggestion of the Rev. Dr. John Hall, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, and with the consent of Mrs. Shepard, a religious ceremony was performed by Dr. Hall. No member of the Shepard or Vanderbilt families was present at the wedding, which was in the Rev. Dr. Hall's house. After this wedding the couple gave up their temporary quarters in an apartment house in West Fortyseventh street and went to live at the Plaza Hotel.

Of Mrs. Potter little was known at the ime of her marrige to young Shepard. He had no money in his own right. He left Yale in his freshman year, owing to an escapade with some theatrical young women which began at the City Guard ball and ended on the Yale campus and in the BATTLE WITH BURGLARS. Two Villagers Shot; Burglar Wounded

-Vigilance Committee Formed. ALLENDALE, N. J., Aug. 12.-Members of a Vigilance Committee appointed at a town meeting to-night started in to patrol the streets of this village to protect the nces of New Yorkers who spend police protection and there have been many burglaries lately. The most daring attempt occurred last night at the home of Samuel Pritchard, a shoe merchant of

New York. In the fight with the thieves Mr. Pritchard was shot twice, one bullet striking him in the right arm and the other entering the fleshy part of his left side. Pritchard's hired man was struck by a builet which glanced off the frontal bone. Dr. Henry M. Archer of New York says had the bullet struck one-half an inch lower the man would have been killed. The thieves drove up to the wagon and backed it up to the door. As they started up the pathway Mr. Pritchard opened fire. There were two men and one opened fire. There were two men and one woman in the wagon. All three used pistols. Horace Doty, who is with the firm of Bradley & Currier at 119 West Twenty-third street, New York, heard the firing, and from his house, opposite Pritchard's, also opened fire, as did Dr. Betters of Dr. Doty, the father of Horace. Prittenards, also opened are, as and Dr. Petters and Dr. Doty, the father of Horace. The thieves jumped into the wagon and drove off. As they passed Horace Doty's house one of the robbers fell into the bottom of the wagon saying "I'm shot!" Blood stains on the roadway indicated that the man must have been severely wounded.

On Sunday night thieves visited Mr.
Pritchard's house, went through the lower rooms and turned things upside down, as though searching for money.

REYNOLDS WON MRS. MERRILL Parties to the Ithaca Shooting Affai Married Under Difficulties.

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 12.-James Reynolds and Mrs. Minnie Merrill, who with Louis Cuiver figured in Saturday night's shooting affair on Madison street, were principals in another sensation to-night. In their efforts to be married they attracted nearly a hundred street urchins and several police officers and finally had to employ an automobile to escape the jeering crowd. Reynolds and Culver were both locked up Sunday for using firearms. Yesterday they were released on bail and began courting Mrs. Merrill. To-day Reynolds secured her consent to marry him and arranged for a secret ceremony to-night. Their plans leaked out, however, and a gang of boys was on hand to escort them. To escape the crowd Reynolds called officers to his assistance, but even with their help he was unable to make his way to the parsonage. GOULD GETS TO THE SEA. Western Maryland Said to Have a Terminal in Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.-The Western Maryand Railroad has found a terminal in Baltimore. It is understood on the best authority that it has secured the Lanahan property near Light street bridge and 125 cres of land belonging to the Winana estate, which is immediately adjoining. Ex-Mayor Ferdinand C. Latrobe, agent for the Winans property, would not deny that it had been bought by the Western Maryland, but he said that the deal would have to have the sanction of the owners who live abroad.

Piers for the accommodation of ocean going vessels will be constructed as soon as the property rights are acquired, and $3,000,000 will be spent

GOLF WAS HIS UNDOING. Naval Officer So Devoted to the Game That

He Must Be Sent to Sea. WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 .- The fascinations f golf have proved the undoing of a naval officer who was practically certain of a good long stay ashore until the game got its hold on him. The officer is assigned to inspection duty under one of the naval bureaus and the chief of the bureau has recommended to the acting Secretary of the Navy that he be detached and sent to sea. The reason for the recommendation is that the officer is too much interested in golf to be able to devote enough attention to his official duties.

PRISONER FREED TO PICK HOPS.

Many Applications for Release for That Purpose at This Time of Year.

Thomas Casey, a prisoner in the workouse, sent a request yesterday to George Faraquhar, of the Bowery mission, asking him to see Magistrate Mott, and arrange to get him out of prison. "That's about the fifteenth man that's asked me to do this this year," Faraquhar explained. "They all want to get out, they say, so as to go to picking hops up the State. The hop picking and grape picking after it are great ttractions for these men Magistrate Mott agreed to let Casey go.

GOV. GAGE BEATEN.

He Carries San Francisco, but Runs Behind Elsewhere. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.-Late but still very incomplete returns from the primaries indicate that Gov. Gage will not have a majority of the delegates. He captured San Francisco but in some of the outside districts he was badly beaten. It is considered improbable that he can be nominated.

CROWN PRINCE'S LOVE AFFAIR

KAISER GETS BACK THE RING HIS SON GAVE MISS DEACON.

she Throws It in Face of One of the Representatives He Sent to Get It - Buke and Duchess of Marlborough Her Friends - Prince Met Her at Blenheim.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Paris, Aug. 12:- The Matin, continuing o publish details of the love affair between the German Crown Prince and Miss Gladys Deacon, says that the Duchess of Marlborough is in entire sympathy with Miss Deacon in her dreams of becoming an Empress. The Duchess, the paper says, argues that she married a Duke, and why, then, should not her protegie marry a Prince of the Empire. The Matin says that the Duke of Marlborough was at first ironical, but afterward fell in with the dreams of Miss

Deacon and the Duchess. Emperor William, viewing the affair in a different light, sent a messenger to Miss Deacon demanding the return of the ring given to her by the Crown Prince and saying that the ring was not the property of the Crown Prince, but was a gift of the Empress Frederick to the German nation. Deacon, backed by the Duchess of Mariborough, indignantly refused to part with the precious love token. Messenger succeeded messenger, each of higher rank and each more diplomatic and caressing in his manner than the preceding one until at last Miss Deacon, in a fit of anger and wounded love, threw the ring in the Emperor's representative's Meantime the Crown Prince was closely confined to his room and his uncle. Prince Henry of Prussia, was sent to represent Emperor William at the coronation of King Edward.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.-The announce ment from Paris that Miss Gladys Deacon, daughter of the late Edward Parker Deacon, is the object of affection of the German Crown Prince does not cause great surprise crown Prince does not cause great surprise among those who knew her and her parents when they lived in Boston.

Those who have seen her on her occasional visits here are loud in praise of her beauty. She has been much in the company of royalty when abroad, having been taken about by the Duchess of Mariborough. Once when she was stopping at Blenheim the German Crown Prince was a visitor, and the affection which it is said that the Prince now has for her may have begun the Prince now has for her may have begun

FORGERY CHARGED TO J. F. DOLAN Sub-Contractor on R. T. Tunnel Indicted for Five-Year-Old Fraud.

James F. Dolan, a granite contractor of 412 East 105th street, who has a sub-contract for work on the subway, was arraigned in General Sessions before Judge Foster yesterday on an indictment of forgery in the second degree. The complainant is John J. Hopper, brother of Isaac A. Hopper, the Tammany leader in the Thirtyfirst Assembly district. He accused Dolan of having given to him on July 25, 1897, a forged note for $3,200 bearing the supposed signature of Stewart & Co., contractors in Buffalo. The case would have been outlawed on Friday last. Last Wednesday Detective Sergeant Manning and a county detective sent by District Attorney Jerome went to patrick of 106 East 105th street, a sister-inlaw of Dolan, formerly employed by him as a clerk. The detectives watched her boarding house all night and in the morning took her to this city. She appeared before the Grand Jury which made out the indict-Dolan was held by Judge Foster in $2.500 bail. Among the witnesses against him is A. L. Fosberg of Pittsfield, Mass., who was formerly in the employ of Stewart

Dolan was arrested on June 1, this year, for another alleged forgery. The com-plainant in that case was the Twelfth Ward Bank, which charged that Dolan "John F. Cockerill." Mr. Cockerill is also a contractor. The case was dismissed by Magistrate Mott because the Fitzpatrick woman, who was an important witness in this forgery case too, could not be found. Dolan lives in Far Rockaway. FALES A BRIDEGROOM AGAIN. Margherita Arlina Hamm's Divorced Husband Weds in Maine. ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 12. The climax of a romantic attachment was attained here this morning in the marriage of William E. S. Fales of New York to Miss Winifred Melville Shaw of this city. The bride is a young woman who has already gained some note as artist and author. Mr. Fales was divorced in New York on July 29 by Margherita Arlina Hamm, who lived in Banger before her marriage to him, Mr. Fales came to Maine recently and at Cooper's Beach met the young woman who became his wife this morning. He and Miss Shaw were contributors to the same literary publications. The marriage was to have taken place Aug. 6, but it was deferred because of the death of Mr. Fales's mother, Mrs. Imogene C. Fales. The bride is a daughter of the Rev. E. M. Shaw.

The foregoing despatch shows that it took Fales just eleven days longer than it took his divorced wife, Margherita Arlina Hamm-Fales, to find another spouse. The divorce was granted on July 29 and on Aug. 1 Mrs. Hamm-Fales gave her hand to John R. McMahon, a Brooklyn newspaper man. Mr. and Mrs. McMahon are honeymooning in a cottage at Scotch Plains, N. J.

BRAGG NOT TO BE DISTURBED.

He Wanted Our Consul-General Recalled. WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 - Unless the Cuban Government makes some further representations in the case of Gen. Bragg, United States Consul-General at Havana, and indicates that he is not wanted, the United States will not disturb him. The complaint of the Cuban Minister of Foreign Affairs at Gen. Bragg's uncomplimentary remarks concerning the Cubans in a private letter to his wife and Gen. Bragg's explanation that he had a right to say what he pleased in a communication to his better half were sent to President Roosevelt. That was the sent to President Roosevelt. That was the end of them as far as anybody here knows. President Palma mentioned the Bragg incident once casually to Mr. Squiers the United States Minister in Havana, but he did not indicate that his Government wanted to have Gen. Bragg recalled.
